Chairman James asked for public comments: None voiced at this time.

Chairman James asked for airline reports: No Airlines were present.

Chairman James asked for a report from the Air Service Committee. Mr. Haring stated that passenger numbers continue to improve but still have a long way to go to reach 2019's pre covid numbers. United's passenger enplanements were up by 4,291 passengers (+439%) over May 2020, however still down 4,422 passengers (46%) compared to May 2019. Delta's recently restarted Minneapolis service resulted in a 338 passenger gain over May 2020, but still 4,680 passengers less (-90%) than May 2019. Total air carrier enplanements were up 4,269 passengers (+407%) compared to 2020 but down 9,102 passengers (-61%) when compared to 2019. While Delta successfully restarted the Minneapolis market, capacity is still significantly down as there are 1248 fewer seats this year than 2020 (-68%) and 5,322 fewer seats than 2019 (-90%), though the service was only in place for the last few days of the month. United's capacity, while improving, is still behind 2019 numbers, as May saw total seat availability that was up 29% over 2020, but still down 47% when compared with 2019. Fares continue to be somewhat volatile, especially with high load factors. Delta has shown great passenger demand since service commencement was announced, which is likely leading to the fact that only 44% of fares on Delta are within $100 of Omaha. However, an amazing 100% of the fares on United are within $100 of Omaha, with 44% of the fares actually being cheaper out of Lincoln. Load factors showed improvement for the third month in a row, with significant increases in all markets. Denver received the highest load factor at 96%, while Minneapolis had the lowest load factor at 82%. Overall load factor came in at 90%. Mr. Haring also briefed the Board on his monthly conversation with Nick Wangler at Forecast, Inc.
